This Is What God Has Done by Sergey Ulyanov

(The following is a letter from one of our staff at Restoration House. Sergey served for several years before departing last year. We are so happy to have him back as part of our staff once again!)

Hello!

My name is Sergey and greetings to all of you our dear American brothers and sisters. We are very grateful and offer you many thanks for your prayers, support and help.

I am very grateful to God, Kent, Todd and all our employees that they have done me the honor of allowing me to return again to Restoration House to serve. This is a place where dreams come true and God gives all hope!

Sergey surrounded by street youth

Since the beginning of 2013 in the house there have been very big changes among our children and also in those young people who do not live here but come for a visit.

God works in an interesting way with children from the street. Sometimes they come often for visits but we are not always sure what to do to help them. Sometimes they decide not to stay and take the help that we offer but we still continue to stay in communication with them in the hopes that they will return when they are ready.

This year God brought many guys and girls into the house. Each one has goals they desire to reach and all of us are here to help them with that plan.

Ilya and Katya were married and started a new family. It is very pleasant to see Ilya go from being simply our boy to growing up and becoming a father.

God also brought Kolia and Sveta into our lives. They are planning on building a family together. Sveta is living at a sister organization and Kolia continues to stay at Restoration House so that he can change his life. He is a great help with everything here.

He and the other guys at the house have been working for a local contractor and the contractor has made Kolia a senior over the other guys. Kolia keeps them motivated while they work and also holds them accountable for the money they are earning. They all want to save as much as they can for their futures.

Sasha, who was recently released from prison, thinks mostly of getting beyond his past and making a new life for himself. He would like to go to Bible school and then to serve God and the children from the streets where he came from himself. He wants to help them to not make the same choices that he used to make and to have a better life than his choices created for him in the past.

Pasha has a real gift for drawing. Although he wants to save for his future, he also wants to earn the money to pay for drawing lessons so that he can further develop his talent. He hopes to even earn a living by using this gift from God.

Sasha (staff), Sergey and Maxim

Misha has a great desire for us to help him get his documents and then in September he would like to go to school. The most important thing that pleases me about Misha is that he has a hunger to know more about God.

Sergey who we have known already for a very long time still struggles to find his place in this world. He does not truly know what he wants yet. We continue to work with him and it is necessary for us all to pray for him continually for God to give him wisdom. Sergey is a very good and kind person and I know that God will help us to help him find his place.

This is what God has done during the first half of our year here at Restoration House.

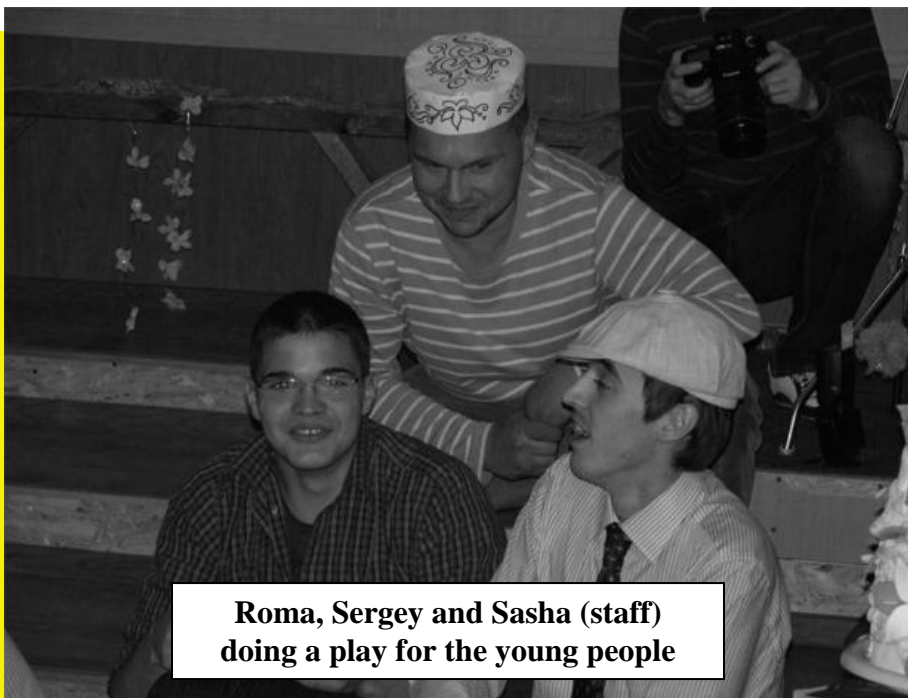

Now we are working on preparing for our annual youth camp. We also go very often to the streets to visit all the young people there.

We are enjoying the summer and it's time of picnics, fun and also working together outside to plant many vegetables in our garden.

We have not always felt that we knew what to do, but God has prepared for all of us the tools to develop our service skills to a new level.

We pray that we never let our true pleasure in the Lord leave our hearts. He is the one who gives His great love to all those who draw near to Him and to all who need it.
